

A technical drawing of a rectangular frame. The frame consists of two vertical end rails and two horizontal side rails. The vertical end rails are wider than the horizontal side rails. The drawing shows the frame from a perspective view. Dimensions are indicated: a vertical dimension of 42" on the right side and a horizontal dimension of 14" on the right side, indicating the width of the frame.

